Making it REAL - Monday 31st March, 9.30 till 12.30

Making it REAL is an evidence based (tried and tested) programme focussed on Raising Early Achievement in Literacy. It works for all young children by making literacy meaningful and giving parents confidence to engage in fun, low/no cost activities to support their children's learning. By attending this training you will gain knowledge and understanding of the four strands of early literacy and an under-pinning framework that supports planning and evaluation. You will find out about how REAL works through literacy events and have the opportunity to take part in a project with grant funding of £200 for resources and staffing.

Please contact Kate Elston at the Jersey Child Care Trust (01534 629901) or kate@jcct.org.je to book and find out more....

Jersey's Children First - Right Help Right Time

All of the Jersey's Children First training has been updated to reflect the statutory guidance supporting the Children and Young People (Jersey) Law 2022. Even if you have completed Jersey's Children First training previously, it is recommended that you complete one of the updated online learning programmes to understand how the Jersey's Children First framework supports you to work with the statutory guidance.

There are 2 online learning programmes:

- introduction
- essentials

Select the course that is right for you dependent on your role. You only need to complete one of them.

Once you have completed your online learning, there are 3 face-to-face courses available.

A set of four online training modules and 3 toolkits have also been developed to explain key areas of the statutory guidance that supports the Children and Young People (Jersey) Law 2022. They explain how to carry out duties and responsibilities under the law.

Information about the Children and Young People (Jersey) Law 2022 is available here. Details of the statutory guidance training resources are provided below.

For more details and a training matrix according to your role, please see further details on our page below:
